The Garden Table - Staff Handbook (Excerpt for Employees)

INTERNAL DOCUMENT FOR EMPLOYEES. This excerpt describes rules for staff working at The Garden Table. It does not describe rules for guests.

Uniform and dress code for staff

- Front-of-house staff wear black trousers or a black skirt, a plain white or black shirt and the green Garden Table apron.
- Kitchen staff wear the chef jacket provided by the restaurant, black trousers and a hat or hairnet.
- All staff must wear closed, non-slip shoes.
- Jewelry is limited to small earrings and a plain ring for kitchen staff.
- Name badges must be worn during service.

Shifts

- Shifts are published every Thursday for the following week.
- Shift swaps must be approved by a manager.
- Staff should arrive 15 minutes before the start of each shift for the pre-service briefing.

Staff meals

A free staff meal is served before each evening shift. Staff receive a 30% discount when dining at either location on their days off.

Tips

Tips and the service charge are pooled and shared among all front-of-house and kitchen staff, according to hours worked.

Allergens

All staff must complete allergen training in their first week. Servers must always pass allergy information to the kitchen in writing on the order.

Health and safety

- Report any injury, however small, to the shift manager.
- Knives are carried pointing down and never left in sinks.
- The first aid kit is in the office next to the kitchen.

Guest complaints

Staff should listen, apologize and inform the shift manager. Managers may offer to remake a dish or remove it from the bill.
